A Lecture Styled Workshop
with Siobhan Richardson

This lecture will look at the questions "What are scenes of Intimacy?" and "What is an Intimacy Director?", with an introduction to processes and practices to use when approaching scenes involving physical contact.

This includes a portion on how to practice consent in a theatre environment and how it applies to the rehearsal process. Acting exercises using communication and for building chemistry with your scene partner will also be demonstrated in addition to specific scene work techniques that are particular to scenes of Intimacy.
